Huntingdon Drama Club presents 'The Happiest Days of your Life'

Classic British farce returns to the Commemoration Hall between 11 and 13 November, when Huntingdon Drama Club presents 'The Happiest Days of your Life', John Dighton's 1948 comedy.

Hilary Hall – an all-boys Prep school – is forced to share its premises with St Swithin's, a girls' school led by the formidable Miss Whitchurch (pictured below with her staff). Complications increase as both schools try to keep the truth from the pupils' parents. Misunderstandings, outright lies, devious plots, sabotage... All are grist to the mill in this sparkling production.

Director Richard Meredith says: "John Dighton's wizard farce 'The Happiest Days of your Life' is fondly remembered as a hit film starring Alistair Sim, Margaret Rutherford and Joyce Grenfell. We're delighted to bring the play to Huntingdon, as it promises to be a real winter warmer."

Tickets (£9; concessions and groups of four or more £7) are available online from www.huntingdondramaclub.org.uk (no booking fee), or ring Huntingdon 454486. For further information, contact Michael Black and John Morgan on Huntingdon 454486. Rehearsal photographs are available on request.

The photograph shows Katie Hickey (Miss Harper), Jeanette Brown (Miss Whitchurch) and Kelly Mason (Miss Gossage) taking possession of a Hilary Hall scarf!
